

Thanks to over two decades of hard work by Tennessee Lions Charities and our volunteers, hundreds of thousands of children have started their lives without potential vision problems going unnoticed.

THANKS TO KIDSIGHT OUTREACH

More than 645,000 children have participated in our KidSight Outreach vision screening program over the years. The preschoolers we are screening this year can learn to read and play thanks to the early detection of potential vision problems. Teenagers that were screened a decade ago are competing at higher levels and advancing in school. The young adults who participated in our program more than twenty years ago are now parents themselves, teaching our current participants, and some have joined the Lions Club and work with our screening program because of the example our KidSight Outreach screeners set for them early on.

Your support will help Tennessee Lions Charities provide free vision screenings and follow-ups to children in Tennessee. The average cost of screening a child is $5.75, a small price to pay to ensure that children begin their education without a vision problem going unnoticed. As it enables the children in your community to strive for excellence in school and beyond, our KidSight Outreach program is a great way to show your commitment to the success of your community. We ask for your support and encourage your involvement.
